

CALIFORNIA

Fr. J. Ripley Caldwell, 88, on May 27 in Los Gatos, Calif. He was a teacher and counselor at Loyola Marymount University and a retreat director at the Jesuit Retreat Center in Los Altos.

Fr. George T. Dennis, 86, on March 7 in San Jose, Calif. He taught medieval and Byzantine history and Greek paleography at The Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C.

Fr. John G. Ferguson, 90, on March 21 in Los Gatos, Calif. He taught philosophy and theology at the University of San Francisco, was a minister, counselor, and theology teacher at Jesuit High in Sacramento, and did parish ministry in California and Utah.

Fr. Norbert J. Korte, 80, May 12, in Los Gatos, Calif. He was infirmarian at Los Gatos and an altar wine sales representative for Novitiate Wines of Los Gatos.

Fr. Thomas A. Marshall, 87, on March 11 in Los Gatos, Calif. He was librarian at Bellarmine College Prep in San Jose, Loyola Marymount University, and Woodstock Theological Library, and he served as archivist for his province.

Fr. Donald P. Merrifield, 81, on February 25 in San Jose, Calif. He was president and chancellor at Loyola Marymount University, and he served as coordinator for Hispanic ministry for the diocese in Honolulu.

Fr. Dare J. Morgan, 86, on March 14 in Los Gatos, Calif. He taught math at St. Ignatius College Prep and Brophy Prep, served in parishes in Santa Clara, San Jose, Hollywood, and Sacramento, and was a retreat director at the Jesuit Retreat Center of Los Altos.

Fr. John J. Perlite, 91, on March 25 in Los Gatos, Calif. He was a minister, teacher, and master of novices at Sacred Heart Novitiate and treasurer at Alma College and the Jesuit School of Theology in Berkeley.

Fr. Herbert J. Ryan, 79, on April 8 in Los Angeles. He taught theology at Loyola Marymount

University, was involved in the Anglican Roman Catholic International Commission, and published several books and journal articles.

Fr. Robert L. St. Clair, 82, on May 12 in Los Gatos, Calif. He was an administrator at Jesuit communities, including Loyola High and Loyola Marymount University in Los Angeles, and at his province.

Fr. Gerald P. Sullivan, 78, on May 15 in Los Gatos, Calif. He taught art at Santa Clara University for 38 years and exhibited his work in Northern California galleries.

Fr. Michael J. Zimmers, 87, on April 4 in Los Gatos, Calif. He taught theology at Loyola Marymount University and was an administrator at the Institute of Lay Theology at the University of San Francisco.

CHICAGO

Fr. Robert J. Murphy, 87, on May 1 in Clarkston, Mich. He served as the secretary for his province, as master of novices at the novitiate in Milford, Ohio, and as pastor at parishes in Chicago and Lexington, Ky.

DETROIT

Fr. Paul S. Kehres, 90, on March 26 in Pune, India. He was a teacher, superior, and librarian at De Nobili College in Pune, India, and he was a professor of biology and psychology at Sacred Heart College in southern India.

MARYLAND

Fr. Albert H. Jenemann, 82, on March 16 in Merion Station, Pa. He was a professor of philosophy at Loyola College, Wheeling Jesuit University, and Saint Joseph's University, where he also served as dean of students and vice president.

Fr. Joseph J. McGovern, 92, on March 15 in Philadelphia. He taught at St. Joseph's Prep; was minister of the Jesuit communities at Georgetown University and Wheeling Jesuit University; was a retreat director in New Jersey and North Carolina; and was a pastoral minister at Old St. Joseph's Church in Philadelphia.

Fr. Edward P. O'Connell, 84, on March 30 in the Bronx. He served at parishes and ministered to Native Americans in Southern Maryland, and he taught religion at Archbishop Neale School in La Plata, Md.

MISSOURI

Fr. Yoshio Ignatius Futo, 61, on February 27 in Taipei, Taiwan. He taught and was reference librarian at Sophia University in Tokyo, was a consultant for the library of the Tokyo Catholic Major Seminary, was associate professor and librarian at Saint Louis University, and was director of the library at the Ricci Institute in Macau.

Fr. Frank L. Pedrotti, 77, on May 10 in St. Louis. He was a professor in the engineering departments at Xavier University, Regis University, Rockhurst University, and Marquette University, and he served as business manager of the Institute of Jesuit Sources in St. Louis.

NEW ENGLAND

Fr. Dudley R.C. Adams, 70, on May 30 in Weston, Mass. He served as president, dean, and treasurer at St. George's College in Jamaica and was pastor at a parish in Kingston, Jamaica.

Fr. Charles G. Crowley, 90, on May 22 in Weston, Mass. He taught physics at Al-Hickma University in Baghdad; taught religion, math, and physics at high schools on the Caroline Islands; and served as a pastoral minister in Boston.

Fr. William J. Cullen, 77, on May 25 in Weston, Mass. He taught history and religion at Bishop Connolly High in Fall River, Mass., worked in campus ministry at Fairfield University, and taught at Nativity Prep in Jamaica Plain, Mass.

Fr. Stephen F. Dawber, 71, on April 29 in Weston, Mass. He served at Boston College for over 20 years as a teacher and academic vice president; was director of admissions and principal at Cheverus High in Portland, Maine; and was principal and president at Bishop Connolly High School in Fall River, Mass.

Fr. Joseph F.X. Flanagan, 84, on May 14 in Boston. He served at Boston College for 46 years as a professor of philosophy, chair of the philosophy department, and director of the Lonergan Institute, which he founded.

NEW YORK

Fr. William W. Meissner, 79, on April 16 in Weston, Mass. He was a doctor and psychoanalyst and a long-time faculty member at Boston College and Harvard Medical School.

OREGON

Fr. Joseph R. DeJardin, 83, on April 9 in Spokane, Wash. He was a history teacher as well as a librarian, spending over 40 years working at Jesuit High in Portland, Ore., where he also worked as a campus minister.

Fr. Alexander F. McDonald, 92, May 29 in Spokane, Wash. He was a professor of English literature at Seattle University for 20 years, and he served as provincial of his province.

Fr. David S. Olivier, 79, on April 7 in Spokane, Wash. He spent nearly 40 years working in high schools, teaching English at Jesuit High in Portland; Bellarmine Prep in Tacoma, Wash.; and Loyola-Sacred Heart High in Missoula, Mont.

Fr. Joseph D. Ringwood, 81, on April 29 in Spokane, Wash. He worked in parish and high school ministry, serving at churches in Seattle, Missoula, and Spokane as well as Gonzaga Prep in Spokane.

WISCONSIN

Fr. Paul J. Strittmatter, 63, on March 30 in Omaha. He was a campus minister and associate director of the Medical School at Creighton University; was associate pastor at St. Francis Mission in St. Francis, S.D., for thirteen years; and was pastor of several churches in Iowa.